Quickly and Accurately Quantify Business Interruption Claims

We use our proprietary platform, Stratis™, to help insurers get clients back on their feet by quickly and accurately quantifying business interruption claims. This integrated and technology-focused forensic accounting process saves insurance companies significant time and money, helping to make the best of a bad day.

Benefit from Intelligent Automation.

How It Works: Our team uses Stratis to pull claims data instantly and automate labor-intensive administration. This allows our accountants to build replicable models and scale claims processing quickly during a CAT or other periods of high volume when advance payment matters most.

No More Waiting for Claims Data

Direct systems integrations and OCR technology instantly extract financial data to reduce a claims life-cycle by up to 80%.

Higher Quality Customer Service

Stratis™ enables our accountants to provide deeper insights helping your team boost engagement and build trust with your clients.

Workflows Become Efficient and Transparent

Teams and clients benefit from timely budgets, a seamless workflow, and data accessibility for decision-making.

Avoid the Administrative Headaches

Automation and transparency prevent claims from falling through the cracks and allow our team to focus on closing claims.

Reduce Your Loss Adjustment Expenses

Stratis™ helps save clients 40 – 60% of the cost of a claim compared to standard manual accounting processes.
